LONG REACH and SMOOTH JAW FORCEPS

The long reach forceps are for any application requiring long reach and narrow jaws eg. withdrawing samples from tubes of internal diameter of 15mm and a length of 50mm or moving PCB jumpers. The section manipulating forceps are not serrated and have light spring-pressure to avoid repetitive strain.

- GS-TRF LONG REACH FORCEPS, stainless steel, with long jaws and serrated tips, overall length 150mm; width at grip 13mm; tips 50 x 5mm. £2.47
- GS-AA-MOD SECTION MANIPULATING FORCEPS, stainless steel, with smooth tips, overall length 118mm; width at widest part 11mm; £2.21

WATCHMAKERS' FORCEPS

Watchmakers' forceps have been developed in Switzerland to enable the handling of minute mechanical parts associated with watchmaking. This fineness and strength has applications in other fields including the biological sciences and micro-electronics.

We offer three quality ranges:-

- * Swiss Precision forceps of anti-magnetic stainless steel.
- * A Standard range, also anti-magnetic stainless steel.
- * A budget priced range, of stainless steel, particularly suitable for student use.

The most popular styles are listed here, but others are available to order.
