

Designed to be Recycled - Sustainable Lab Coats.

Designed to be recycled, these coats are made from recycled, high-quality polyester. The material is 100% recycled polyester and the stud fasteners, stitching, and labels are also made of 100% recycled polyester. This means that these coats can be recycled completely at end of life. The recycling service is included in the cost of the garment, a QR code in the garment explains the process.

- For optimal energy efficiency, coats should be washed at 30° and line dried.
- The lab coats are washable (30°C to 60°C) through about 50 was cycles. They dry quickly so no need to tumble dry.
- Coats are also suitable for industrial laundry and can be washed at 60° and tumble dried if necessary.
- All coats have two hip pockets and one breast pocket.
- Howie coats have stud fastening up to the neck.

Caution: General protection against dust, dirt, and harmless liquid splashes only. General laboratory use; no protection against chemicals. Recycle garment at end of life.
